READ ACROSS AMERICA

To find more ways to cultivate a passion for reading in your student, check out the Read Across America website. This website includes tips for how to support your reader as well as a number of diverse, age-appropriate book suggestions. It also includes a monthly Read Across America calendar which features an inclusive theme for each month such as “Activate Young Citizens”, “Practice Empathy”, and “Inspire Stewardship.”

But of course, the best way to instill a life-long love of reading in your student is to lead by example! Some ideas of this include reading together as a family, making what you read about a frequent topic of discussion, taking trips to the library when possible, and being an active reader yourself.
