

Executive Director's Report

Susan Domenighini

September 14th, 2018

The new year has begun with great vigor and positive expectations. The children came in to find the new play structure. One mom told me their excitement was like for school on the first day was akin to Christmas Morning.

Buck Ernest continues to bless us with his good work. He completed the fence between Enloe and Blue Oak, he is checking each classrooms, helping teachers and working on improving the grounds when he has time. The gardens are lovely bright spots in our school. The vegetable garden has a great array of growing green. The children love Our Thoughtful Peace Garden and are greeting students daily with a hearty wave.

Special Education is going well. We had a great turnout to our Parent Information Night on August 23rd. A number of parents expressed gratitude for the information and the decision to move to our own services.

The Band program is really taking off, electives are beginning, as are after school clubs. Check out the work Summer is doing on the website.

I enjoyed the opportunity to stop in to the class meetings, hear some of the information the teachers share and greet parents. This was a replacement for our All School Meetings from previous years, allowing teachers to focus on building the classroom community.

The front office staff team is coming together into a great team, we are beginning work on documenting Standard Operating Procedures as recommended by the FCMAT team. This will be the focus of our monthly meetings.
